MONTE CARLO TRIUMPH FOR BRITISH MINI

For the second year running a British Mini-Cooper wins the famous Monte Carlo Rally.

Finnish driver Timo Makinen (right) and his British co-driver, Paul Easter from Stratford, Buckinghamshire, England, are pictured beside their B.M.C. Mini-Cooper S on arrival in Monte Carlo.

After a penalty-free run to Monte Carlo in the toughest rally for over twenty years, the partnership of Makinen and Easter held the lead over the final 370-mile alpine test. Only 35 crews out of the 237 starters qualified as rally finishers.
